ON TAP

MOO BREW

SESSION ALE

6/9

Does what it says on the tin. Session Ale. American and Tassie hops give plenty of aroma and tropical fruit character, plus a tight, hoppy bitterness. A healthy dose of German specialty malts results in a rich honey-coloured ale with a full, dry finish. Plus it's only 3.5%, so you can settle in for.. well. Whatever you feel like. It'll be there for you.

BREW - ALE

8/11

It doesn't take a postgraduate degree in 'beer' to guess what this tastes like. Crisp, not too dry, and with just enough hop-fruitiness to justify calling it an ale.

Pairs with whatever's in the fridge—and is best enjoyed cold, any time of the year.

BREW - LAGER

8/11

When it comes to a lager it's best not to overthink it—simple malt bill, buggie-all hops (well, a few—we're not animals), and mild bitterness make for an extremely easy drinker, best enjoyed cold, year-round, anywhere.

Pairs perfectly with whatever your mate just bought over.

PALE ALE

8/11

The Pale Ale family tree has grown tall, twisted, and often confusing. We keep our Pale pretty close to the roots, drawing on American Centennial and Tasmanian Cascade hops to build a gnarly floral and citrus aroma, underpinned with a healthy bitterness. Two different malts stand against the fruit and flora, creating a complex, well-balanced beer (as opposed to a confusing alcoholic fruit salad).

WILLIE -EST. 1888- SMITH'S TASMANIAN

ORGANIC APPLE CIDER 8/11

Willie's original cloudy cider, made with 100% organic apples – it's real Tassie cider, grown and made on the farm.

Left with a little apple sweetness, it's packed full of fresh apple character and flavour.

Very, very drinkable – it's no wonder it's our most popular cider.

A good all-rounder to kick things off or go all out and match it with an 8-hour cider-braised pork with prunes and crab apples.

HARD GINGER BEER 8/11

The Spreyton Hard Ginger Beer is a naturally fermented Ginger beer based on a family recipe dating back to the 1800s. Using only Ginger, Lemon, Tartaric acid (from grape skins) and yeast to give it its unique flavour.

Made with a touch more ginger bite and less sweetness than many of the competing products our Hard Ginger Beer is unique and is aimed at the discerning consumer looking for a change from more traditional alcoholic beverages.

TRADITIONAL APPLE CIDER 10

This golden unfiltered traditional style cider is made from a mix of heritage French and English cider apples – around 12 varieties – to create a balanced blend.

Tannin, acid and an array of apple/fruit characters come together resulting in a more complex cider.

It is this character and balance that makes Trad a cider easily enjoyed straight from the tin in the backyard or quietly pondered over when matched with great food.

BONE DRY APPLE CIDER 10

Think the old English-style ciders of Somerset and Herefordshire but made with our apples.

Fermented until completely dry, then fermented again to soften the mouthfeel and add complexity.

Full of fresh crunchy apples, it's bone dry and refreshing.
